

A MIND SET FOR SUCCESS

Everybody wants to succeed. Besides, everyone loves to identify with success. As is popularly said, Failure is an orphan but success has many fathers. So, whether in business, career, family or even in social issues, we all want to achieve success. However, for many people, success is an elusive pursuit that makes them wonder whether it is attainable. The problem is that too many people who desire success either do not know how to define success or the discipline involved in the pursuit of success. The attainment of success follows certain rules. Those who succeed by accident usually lose it by design! No man succeeds outwardly without first succeeding inwardly. This programme teaches the principles of SUSTAINABLE success that guarantees positive results in every area of life.
